EXPERIENCE, STRENGTH AND HOPE

by Cindy N., Staff Reporter

Step 1. "We admitted we were powerless over alcohol - that our lives had become unmanageable."

Unmanageable? Au contraire, my good fellow! I always used my womanly wiles on the sheriff as I scooted from one eviction notice to another. I didn't pollute the air by using my car, I pulled my little red wagon to the liquor store. (actually I had no car, and the state had taken my license.) I enjoyed the full body rush I got when a police car passed.

Unmanageable? Pah-leaze! Doesn't everyone trash their mail before opening it? Look at all the time and energy I was saving by not worrying about how they would be paid. Look at all the people who had jobs because of me. . . bill collectors, the courts, jails, hey, I was helping the economy! My mom kept busy paying people to pray for me. Lordy, what a life! I will have you know, I didn't need any help from anyone. Hmmmmmph.

I came to this Program of my own free will, (alcohol poisoning) for the last time. I freed myself by admitting I had a problem and I couldn't handle it alone. That mere statement of belief was powerful and so right. I had to believe that I was totally and soundly defeated, before I could crawl out of the bottomless pit I had created for myself.

Ah, but alcohol is cunning, baffling, and powerful (and lets not forget patient!) It waited patiently for me to become a useful member of society, to become gainfully employed, and somewhat respected again. Sometimes that little voice kicked in, you know the one. . "I'm not really alcoholic. I wasn't that bad, I can handle it today. I've got my act together." What to do, what to do; why does this always happen to me? That's it! Me Me Me Me Me ME!!!

I had to get out of 'me,' and start working with others. Remember the phrase 'United we stand, Divided we fall?' It still holds true today. I had to let someone in to help me maintain my sobriety. Sometimes I just stuck around to see what happened next. A.A. promised me a new life, a new freedom and a new happiness, beyond my wildest dreams, and that, my friends, you can take to the bank!!

Tradition 1 - The Long Form states: "Each member of Alcoholics Anonymous is but a small part of the whole. AA must continue to live or most of us will surely die. Hence our common welfare comes first. But individual welfare follows close after."

Therefore each of us is but a small cog in the huge machinery of AA. We all need each other to survive. We all have our roles to play, no matter what the part, it's up to us, individually, to play our role for the good of the whole. Today my life counts, and it counts even more with all of you.

Don't forget, NERAASA in February. Get-Away weekend in March, and The Spring Convention In May!

SEASONS OF REAL JOY

Some people think God made life just for happiness, but I find myself unable to share that view. I think He made life for growth and that He permits pain as the touchstone of it all. Happiness - at the very least, satisfaction - is a byproduct of really trying to grow. And seasons of real joy are but the occasional byproducts of the process. Which, in eternity, will be the eventual fulfillment. Meantime, we seem to be pilgrims on a road - one which you and I are completely confident leads into the arms of God.

Bill W., 1956 letter

STEP THREE: THE SIMPLE WAY

I have a long-standing curse. I am, by nature, a brooder and a deep thinker. For most of my first year sober, my sponsor and other people I trusted, had to sit me down and explain to me that thinking and worrying were not part of the deal. His exact words were "think with what?" I had a lot of trouble with the Third Step. How was I supposed to know for certain if I had indeed turned my will and my life over to the care of God, as I understood him? I tossed and turned, waiting for a sign from God, that would tell me that He had accepted my will and my life. A simple bolt of lightning would have settled the question!

I read books that explained the windy tomes about the nature of one's will. I constantly juggled with concepts like intention, purpose, submission and a host of others. I had a sponsor, whose prime asset was his B.S. detector. His detector, over a period of years, was honed to the nth degree of accuracy. He was also a master of cutting to the heart of the matter. And that is exactly what he did with my dilemma.

"You know you're working the Third Step, when you go on to the rest of them," he said. And, for me, it was true. If I sit worrying about theology, or if I'm involved in some sort of metaphysical musings and I haven't begun my inventory, I'm outside the principle of the Third Step.

A.A. is a Program of action! Of course, willingness, preparation, and readiness, are all essential -- they're what Steps Six and Seven are about -- but unless they're followed by action, I've probably missed the boat. "Faith without works is dead."

I will not get the Third Step perfectly, and there is absolutely no sense getting mired in it. The Third Step is, rather, "like the opening of a door which to all appearances is still closed and locked," according to the Twelve and Twelve. I have also learned to keep the concepts, "will" and "life" simple. For me, my will is what I want to happen, and my life is what happens. As far as I'm concerned, God can have and direct both.

There is nothing tricky or esoteric about this approach to the Third Step. God, through AA, has given me a simple and clear-cut set of directions for living my life. They are called the 'Twelve Steps.' Step Three is a turning point. It is where I turn from mental assent, from the preconditions of honesty, open-mindedness and willingness, to the action steps that follow. I know I'm doing the Third Step when I pick up my pen for the Fourth. What could be simpler?

DESPERATE MAN

A desperate man I used to be,
A disease I have tortured me,
It took me places I normally wouldn't be,
I didn't care about you, and even less about me!

A day came, when it had to end,
I found myself in jail again,
I woke up broken, I woke up weak,
Not even realizing the havoc I wreaked.

My kids were gone, my wife on the run,
What was left for me? Life was no fun,
Then a man from AA gave me a plan,
To stay sober for a day, "no matter how hard," he said. "It gets better every day."

So I followed his plan, sometimes easy, sometimes not,
But, by golly, he was right, better it got,
So here I am today, still living my dream,
To live a good life, sober and clean!

...AND LETTING GO OF IT

"... primarily fear that we would lose something we already possessed or would fail to get something we demanded. Living upon a basis of unsatisfied demands, we were in a state of continual disturbance and frustration. Therefore, no peace was to be had unless we could find a means of reducing these demands. The difference between a demand and a simple request is plain to everyone."

Twelve Steps and Twelve Traditions, p 76

THE ACCEPTANCE PRAYER

God grant me the serenity to accept my addiction, gracefully and humbly.

Grant me also the ability to absorb the teachings of the Program, which by its past experience is trying to help me.

Teach me to be grateful for the help I receive.

Guide me, Higher Power, in the path of tolerance and understanding of my fellow members and fellow man,

Guide me away from the path of criticism, intolerance, jealousy and envy of my friends.

Let me not prejudice, let me become a moralist, keep my tongue and thoughts from malicious idle gossip.

Help me to grow in stature spiritually, mentally, and morally.

Grant me the greatest of all rewards, that of being able to help my fellow sufferers in their search out of the addiction that has encompassed them.

Above all, help me to be less critical and impatient with myself.

THE "WORTH" OF SOBRIETY

"Every AA Group ought to be fully self-supporting, declining outside contributions."

Twelve Steps and Twelve Traditions p 160

When I go shopping I look at the prices and if I need what I see, I buy it and pay. Now that I am supposed to be in rehabilitation, I have to straighten out my life. When I go to a meeting, I take a coffee with sugar and milk, sometimes more than one. But at the collection time, I am either too busy to take money out of my purse, or I do not have enough, but I am there because I need this meeting. I heard someone suggest dropping the price of a beer into the basket, and I thought, that's too much! I almost never give one dollar. Like many others, I rely on the more generous members to finance the Fellowship. I forget that it takes money to rent the meeting room, buy the milk, sugar and cups. I will pay, without hesitation, ninety cents for a cup of coffee at a restaurant after the meeting. I always have money for that. So, how much is my sobriety and my inner peace worth?

MAINTENANCE PROGRAMS DON'T WORK!

Who cares to admit complete defeat. I didn't. I walked through the doors of AA over twelve years ago, not believing I could be one of those people. I stopped drinking cold turkey. My 'dry date' was August 1985. Up until September 1997, I had not had a drink. Although I practiced the 12 Steps of AA, on and off over the years, I was on the marijuana maintenance program. I was only completely sober 2 of the 12 years.

Insanity and unmanageability ruled my life, a direct result of my not working the 12 Step Program of AA. Over the summer of 1997, many of my not yet's had come true. I picked up crack cocaine and within a few months I had lost everything. A brand new car, a 2 bedroom apartment and all it's contents, a part time job, my significant other and most of all, my freedom.

I was incarcerated due to my use of drugs, which finally led me to pick up alcohol. Fortunately, some sanity remained, because I only had a few drinks to settle my sobriety/clean dates, thank God.

I spent 35 days in the Niagara County Jail. I felt miles away from home. I always thought that my drinking was a little different. My drinking had never put me in jail, my drinking had never cost me a job, etc. I can now testify that I am an alcoholic and a drug addict, substitution doesn't work!

Lets talk about unmanageability. I was not in control of my life. I couldn't go to an AA meeting while in jail, although I wanted to very much. I was clean and sober 15 days when Mr. Trooper locked me up. I was going to meetings and getting my life back together. We have to pay the price for our actions, even in sobriety. That hurt.

I recently attended a Correctional Facility meeting that I was planning on attending before my arrest. Having been on the inside, convinced me that I needed to go. People on the inside need us outsiders. I'm becoming active again. I am so grateful to be free. There aren't enough words to express the frustration of not having the freedom to go to a meeting.

I am completely defeated. I am grateful to be able to accept that. I am grateful to be able to turn my negative feelings of defeat and powerlessness, into positive things.

I took advantage of my 35 day stay to rebuild my relationship with God. I have finally been able to read both Big Books, from cover to cover. My relationship with God is a working one today. I have my life and my freedom today, thanks to God, and AA.

Thanks also to Delphine, for being there for me.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN;

A friend of mine died a few weeks ago, of the disease of alcoholism. She became one of those hopeless few who wouldn't or couldn't grasp the simple beauty of the AA Program. I wrote the following for inclusion in the 'New Frontiers'. If one life is touched by my expression of grief, then her death will not have been in vain.

Good-bye my friend,

When we spoke on the day you went to the hospital, we both knew you wouldn't be coming home again. We both knew that you had crossed the line of no return, and the gift of sobriety would not be yours again.

What I was not prepared for was the ugliness of your death, and the knowledge that alcohol had won and shown itself to be the evil it is.

Your hair, once beautiful, was now but a few brittle fuzzy strands framing your beaten frail face. Eyes, once filled with laughter, oozed like pus out of their sockets. A body to die for, had become a mere skeleton draped with decaying yellow flesh, blood seeping from every orifice. Truly, you were broken, bruised and beaten. You told me you'd be back, but were full of excuses. Alcohol lied to you, and you died, and so my friend....good- bye.
