

NEW FRONTIERS

A.A. of the Niagara Frontier

February 2021

THE CENTRAL COMMITTEE NEWSLETTER FOR ALL A.A. MEMBERS OF WESTERN NEW YORK AND THE NIAGARA FRONTIER

The Spirit of Service

When we first come into the program of Alcoholics Anonymous we are introduced to the practical aspects of service such as, making coffee, reading chapter 5 at the meeting, leading the meeting, and eventually becoming secretary of the group, and for the person who has had "fear of responsibility", when that 6 month obligation comes to an end, they are all too happy to give it up.

These little preliminary responsibilities are just like training wheels and somewhere down the road we ask that same person to take that job again, and things aren't nearly as scary as the first time. These little activities are a veiled approach to taking that person out of his comfort zone and show them that they had nothing to fear in the first place.

The next thing I see when we take on service commitments is that our Ego does not want us doing these things. It wants us to make up excuses for why we can't do it and seems to have something to do with "fear of commitment". A new person must be assured that they can't mess up an AA meeting and there is nothing to be afraid of; they always have a room full of people willing to help for they have been there themselves. This all helps us begin the process of taking our lives back from our Ego and that guy doesn't give up easily.

Service doesn't always come by way of a formal commitment but neither does neglect; a word I seldom ever hear being used in the rooms of AA. We know how to open a door for someone and how a gesture like that can warm our hearts ever so slightly and we never regret that we did it.

We alcoholics have spent a lifetime neglecting those little informal acts of service and as the result, there's not too much to like about ourselves. It cost us nothing to open a door or to make our bed or to return a shopping cart back to the rack, and what is to stop us from doing these things? You got it: Our Ego.

Alcoholics Anonymous is often referred to as an education in the art of living. The things we learn in the program are meant to be taken with us out into the community at large. As the result of the early service commitments, that we are encouraged to perform, our confidence is restored, if only a little at a time, and we can face the risks and challenges that we used to avoid.

Service commitments and gestures are what I see as, the first step toward healing our conscience and the more selfless we become, the more our self esteem is restored and most of us become strong enough to take on those formal service commitments that we used to shy away from.

A lifetime of neglect has left us without much to like about ourselves but I can tell you from experience that the sack of rocks we hear mention of, in AA meetings, not so full of rocks as it is full of pebbles depicting all of the little responsibilities that we selfishly neglected in the past that weighs on our conscience and produces the negative vision that we have of ourselves. We didn't get that way over night and it will take time to establish a track record of unselfishness of spirit.

One by one, as we recognize them, we must replace those deeds, that we selfishly ignored in the past, with unselfish actions, one pebble at a time, without expecting anything in return. As we replace one negative habit with one kind habit we will feel an overwhelming surge of warmth inside that no amount of material gain could ever produce.

Unselfishness heals the spirit and the only one that is on the losing end of this level of service is my Ego. This is the true spirit of Alcoholics Anonymous. What more can I say?

W. W. A. A. D.

What would an alcoholic do?

Imagine sitting in your first meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous and in the middle of the meeting someone who is not a member of A.A. addressed the group with a speech on religion and how to properly achieve salvation. If this had happened at my first meeting I am not sure I would have returned. I may have missed out entirely on the message that A.A. carries to the suffering alcoholic.

About six months ago one of the longtime members of my home group was asked to meet with one of the elders of the church where our meetings are held. The elder of the church spoke about the church's strong conviction of a method of salvation and the sectarian religion they practice. He also made clear the church's belief that any groups meeting at their church needed to hear their message of religion. The elder of the church stated that they would like to come to our meeting several times a year and address the group with their religious message of salvation.

I am grateful that the member of my home group brought another member with him and that both members knew enough about A.A.'s Traditions to immediately inform the elder of the church that we would have to find another place to hold our meetings. I hope this is what any member of Alcoholics Anonymous would have done.

As a member of the steering committee of my home group I volunteered to join the search committee assigned with finding a new place for us to meet. Looking for a new home for our group was a large task and quite an amount of change to encounter. We had met in the same location for as long as I was a member of the group; apparently, we had met there for more than seven years and never faced an issue such as this.

With less than five years of recovery, I feel fortunate that I too have studied the Twelve Traditions. As sloth is a character defect I suffer from, and the task of searching for a new home continued for several weeks, thoughts of staying at the current location entered my mind. After all, what would be so bad about having a preacher come in and preach once in a while? I never spoke to anyone about those thoughts, especially my sponsor. I knew my own laziness and worry about finding a new home were filling my head.

If my home group had decided to allow the church to carry its message into our meetings, what Traditions may have been violated? After all, the Fourth Tradition states, -Each group should be autonomous except in matters affecting other groups or A.A. as a whole. Couldn't we as a group decide that we would allow this church where we hold our meetings to deliver its message?

My group and I came to the quick conclusion that no, we could not! Doing such a thing has the potential of adversely affecting other groups and ultimately A.A. as a whole. As the opening paragraph of this article suggests, allowing a non-member to carry some other message to a group of alcoholics has the potential to keep an alcoholic from receiving the gift of recovery and ultimately sentence him to death.

Although Alcoholics Anonymous had its roots deep in a form of sectarian religion, the founders quickly became aware that to limit one's choice of a Higher Power would leave many of us dying on skid row. We use Christian prayers in many of our meetings and the Twelve Steps are believed to have Jesuit beginnings; however, to affiliate with the brand of the church's religion where we hold our meetings may also be a violation of Tradition Six. The Long Form of Tradition Six states in part, -While an A.A group may cooperate with any- one, such cooperation ought never to go as far as affiliation or endorsement, actual or implied. The thought that I have been in meetings at places rented from social clubs (Lions Club, Rotary Club, Community Centers) and have not yet witnessed any of those entities spreading their message during the meeting helped to confirm the need to continue our search for a new home.

The Fifth Tradition, -Each group has but one primary purpose—to carry its message to the alcoholic who still suffers. suggests that the allowance of any outside entity carrying rhetoric into meetings of A.A. should not occur. The message of Alcoholics Anonymous is the one message that should be carried. The message we carry is to help alcoholics achieve sobriety, not to explain the theory of relativity or how to achieve salvation. I am thankful for the meetings I attend and the message of recovery carried at those meetings.

The contemplation of these Traditions helped to ease the sometimes burdensome task of searching for a new meeting place. We prayerfully continued our search for a new home and found a wonderful place to hold our meeting.

I hope we won't have to encounter similar circumstances in the future but I am confident that the Traditions will keep our groups and A.A. as a whole united in recovery and service.

Our Principles

Step Two: Came to believe that a Power greater than ourselves could restore us to sanity.

It took some of us a while, but we eventually believed in something more than ourselves— maybe it was God, or nature, or our home group. We realized that we were not God and quit pretending that we were. When we considered that a Higher Power might restore us to sanity, we realized that we were insane and believed that we could find help.

Tradition Two: For our group purpose there is but one ultimate authority—a loving God as He may express Himself in our group conscience. Our leaders are but trusted servants; they do not govern.

Just who exactly is in charge here? AA is a democracy, but Bill W. called it a "benign anarchy." AA is a spiritual movement. The group conscience is the voice of God. It's more than just a tally of votes. When we are together, the Higher Power comes through.

Concept Two: When, in 1955, the AA groups confirmed the permanent charter for their General Service Conference, they thereby delegated to the Conference complete authority for the active maintenance of our world services and thereby made the Conference—excepting for any change in the Twelve Traditions or in Article 12 of the Conference Charter—the actual voice and the effective conscience for our whole Society.

Delegation is the key word. Bill and Bob delegated their leadership roles to the General Service Conference. Each group elects a General Service Representative. GSRs meet regularly. Every April, delegates from 93 areas of the US and Canada meet for 6 days with the trustees of the General Service Board, staff of the General Service Office, AA Grapevine, and others. This is the true voice of AA.

Archives: Our January archives committee meeting will be held on January 25, 2021 via zoom. I'll be posting the zoom info once it's confirmed. Contact me if you have any questions in regards to the meeting. At this time we no longer have the 2 monthly work nights. However, you are encouraged to visit your archives repository for a tour and/ or to volunteer to help out. We are always looking for new committee members. Our annual archives breakfast will be held via zoom this year. It's scheduled for May 8, 2021. Lyle P. Will still be our speaker. Stay tuned for more details. I sent reports and attended via zoom Buffalo central committee and Genesee/ Wyoming Intergroup. Niagara Intergroup and NY-PENN didn't meet in December.

We have several oral histories lined up and getting ready to get done. We recently completed Chuck B's oral history.

Thank you Chuck and Tom B. Don't forget to check out the Area50 archives page it's slowly being added to by Tom B.

Thank you to Kristy W. and Matt T. for visiting the archives repository. Matt came back a second time and has offered his talents.

I continue to work with Tom B. several times a week in the archives repository doing many , many things. We are an autonomous committee and receive no money except from group and individual donations. Your contributions are always welcome and put to great use to preserve your archives. We have never been in the dark the lights have ALWAYS been on in archives and will continue to be!!!! Any questions, concerns, problems or suggestions please contact me at 716-866-6612.

Old Business:

No old business

New business:

There was some concern expressed about the lack of participation at Central Committee. Members in attendance were encouraging each other to reach out to fellow members who might be interested in being of service at Central committee.

A motion was made by Diane to bypass the Central Committee meeting for February due to scheduling conflicts. The motion passed and we will meet again in March!

Office Report; January 2021

Fines are solely the responsibility of each group if they chose to still meet.

~ Continued ... Updated since last month: Groups we need to hear from!!!! When meetings were shutting down, and wanting an accurate web-schedule for people, I started calling groups I had not heard from and found many group contacts that need updating. Phone numbers weren't working, or I'd connect and they'd say they're no longer part of that group. I cannot stress enough how important communication with the groups and up to date contact info is!!! Intergroup wants to express our appreciation for those groups and individuals who have made generous financial contributions, and give a special thank you to all the members who have volunteered their time this year to help the sick and suffering alcoholic.

Tradition Two: For our group purpose there is but one ultimate authority—a loving GOD as HE may express Himself in our group conscience. Our leaders are but trusted servants; they do not govern.

- Do I criticize or do I trust and support my group officers, AA committees, and office workers? Newcomers? Old-timers?
- Am I absolutely trustworthy, even in secret, with AA Twelfth Step jobs or other AA responsibility?
- Do I look for credit in my AA jobs? Praise for my AA ideas?
- Do I have to save face in group discussion, or can I yield in good spirit to the group conscience and work cheerfully along with it?
- Although I have been sober a few years, am I willing to serve my turn at AA chores?
- In group discussions, do I sound off about matters on which I have no experience and little knowledge?

Concept II: The General Service Conference of A.A. has become, for nearly every practical purpose, the active voice and the effective conscience of our whole Society in its world affairs. .

- Does our group have a general service representative (Do we have an understanding of the history of the General Service Conference (the "Conference"))?
- • What is a Conference Advisory Action? Does our home group's G.S.R., D.C.M., area delegate report back to the group on the highlights of the Conference and Conference Advisory Actions?
- • Is our group meeting its wider Seventh Tradition responsibilities?
