Willingness and the 6th Step

Step 6: Were entirely ready to have God remove all these defects of character.

"If faith without works is dead, willingness without action is fantasy." ~Anonymous

In Twelve Steps and Twelve Traditions, the guidebook written by one of AA's founders, the chapter on Step 6 begins:

'This is the step that separates the men from the boys....' So declares a well-loved clergyman ... who goes on to explain that any person capable of enough willingness and honesty to try repeatedly Step Six on all his faults-without any reservations whatever-has indeed come a long way spiritually...."

"The step that separates the men from the boys." No doubt in today's more gender-focused society he would add, "... and the women from the girls." Or maybe he would just say that it's where the rubber meets the road, for no other Step so challenges us when it comes to the sustained effort required to "practice these principles in all our affairs."

Why this is so might not be immediately apparent when we first encounter Step 6. It certainly wasn't apparent in the early days of AA, for the "Big Book," Alcoholics Anonymous, devotes just one short paragraph to it. In effect it says that willingness is indispensable and that if we're not completely ready to give up a character defect, then we should ask God to help us become willing.

That doesn't sound like much. But anyone who has lived the program for any length of time knows-as Bill W. learned during the years between the Big Book and the 12&12-that becoming willing or "entirely ready" often requires substantial persistent effort. God doesn't do all the work; we must do our part.

Exactly what our part involves varies for each of us depending upon the particular character defect, how attached we are to it, and whether we believe the benefits of practicing it outweigh the costs of giving it up. Some defects seem pretty harmless-at least in comparison with others that are worse. And some seem so much a part of us, or so useful in getting what we think we need in life, that we might not even recognize them as defects until we're sick and tired of the suffering they cause.

So just what are these character defects that the Step is concerned with?

Some people equate them with the "Seven Deadly Sins," otherwise known as Pride, Greed, Envy, Lust, Sloth, Anger, and Gluttony. That's not a bad place to start, for if we look closely at more specific defects we usually find that they are manifestations of one or more of the seven. Self-centeredness, for instance, is connected with pride...and with greed...and with each of the other 5 as well.

FROM THE DESK OF

Charles C

I saw a cartoon recently of a man drowning. He is all but gone, with just an arm extended above water. A group is observing, recording the event with their cell phones. Being present and filming with the phone is a routine today. At the Olympic opening ceremony, the graduations, at concerts, baptisms; recording a "happening" with sound is very commonplace today. I thought it was a great cartoon, and I identified with the image. Especially at the Olympic ceremony, I watched as the athletes from all the nations marched, holding phones aloft to record a big event in their personal lives.

Many times, persons are filmed and see themselves on YouTube, unaware that their activity was recorded. We live in times of amazing technological advancement, and I continue to be amazed. I am truly overwhelmed and somewhat intimidated by the potential of my new iPhone. I see on YouTube that "hackers" are doing even more than manufacturers and developers intended with the phone. I no longer need a stopwatch, a timer, an alarm clock, a flashlight, a camera, a recorder, a GPS, a calendar, notebook, atlas, stereo, board game, weatherman, songbook, coloring book, recipe book, encyclopedia, or even a TV.

What's my point? Well, back to the cartoon:

With all the tools and communication advances available to all, but specifically to AA members, we may watch someone get drunk and drown in their own self-pity, when all they want is a helping hand. The suffering alcoholic may be so offensive, angry and maybe an "in and out", that no one takes a one on one personal interest in his well-being. When AA was in the early years, there were not hundreds of meetings, Big Books and all books by the thousands, and there were just a few sober-folks in relation to the many pouring into The Fellowship. Sober Alcoholics seventy-five years ago had to sponsor someone. Can you imagine being in Bill's New York Group or Dr. Bob's Akron group and saying, "I am too busy to be a sponsor", or "I haven't been sober long enough myself"? No, they had to lend a helping hand. No matter what, they lent a personal hand and held on to every person that arrived, called, or sent a letter. For this reason, I believe that is why Bill W. could easily write, "Rarely have we seen a person fail who has thoroughly followed our path."

I was impacted by the cartoon, especially as it related to Alcoholics Anonymous. Am I acting responsibly when anyone reaches out? Am I seeing anyone drown and die of alcoholism without reaching out? Have I said to a prospect, "Just read the Big Book, go to meetings and call me if you want to?"

The initial catalyst for cell phone development was portable connection and accountability.

The initial impetus for AA was one alcoholic helping another. I do not want to get caught doing it differently, as there is an easier softer way. That way is waiting for someone else to do the work, and no one does it. ARE WE REACHING OUT TO THE DROWNING MAN? (See bottom of Page 22, Twelve Steps and Twelve Traditions)

~The Messenger; June 2021, Middle Tennessee Intergroup

Other sources have compiled extensive lists of character defects. Studying such lists and discussing them with your sponsor and others can be helpful, but in working Step 6 you will develop your own list that applies specifically to you. And as you continue working the Step over the years, that list will probably grow-though as we progress in recovery we usually get free of most of the worst defects.

All of the character defects in these lists describe habitual attitudes, thoughts, and behaviors that cause unnecessary conflict with other people, within ourselves, and with the God of our understanding. Often they have evolved from survival strategies that we learned in childhood. They may have served a purpose at one time, but later in life they interfere with developing healthy relationships and with learning more effective strategies for dealing with life's challenges. Yet we cling to them like a starving child clings to a tiny crust of bread, fearing to let go and take the bowl full of strange food he's not sure of. Giving them up is an act of faith.

Becoming entirely ready, then, is often achieved as the consequence of a painful struggle with each defect similar to the struggle that brought us to the program in the first place. Most of us are not willing to give up the worst of them until we can no longer stand the pain they cause and have exhausted our efforts to manage them. Thus the process of recovery requires persistent effort to identify patterns of thinking and behavior that no longer work for us.

We must be willing to continue the process of thorough self-examination that we started in Step 4, and to continue discussing our findings with trusted others as we learned in Step 5. We must be willing to reconsider all of our habitual thoughts and behaviors in light of the character defects that we are beginning to recognize: are we really being nice, or are we being passively aggressive? We must be willing to acknowledge the harmful consequences of some behaviors and attitudes that we've learned to rely on, such as acting out anger to get our way. And we must be willing to keep an open mind to learning new and better ways of doing things, and to letting others show us how.

How do we know that we're willing?

By doing it.

An A.A. group ought never endorse, finance or lend the A.A. name to any related facility or outside enterprise, lest problems of money, property and prestige divert us from our primary purpose.

We found that there are all kinds of goals, motives and ambitions... and the good name of A.A. could be smeared!

There Is A Solution.

Old Business:

: Tom C. shared the options we have for a virtual convention. The first choice would be a webinar that can have up to 1,000 people for $340, or 3,000 attendees for $990. However, webinars have no break-out rooms and only 100 people can have audio and video on. The second option is to use zoom. With the zoom option we can have 1,000 attendees, up to 50 break out rooms, 9 spot-light videos, and livestream from Facebook and YouTube. The zoom option costs only $90. Tom C. felt that the zoom option would be the best option.

New business:

: A motion was made to have a virtual convention. After some discussion, 18 members were in favor of a virtual convention, while 2 were not. Therefore, the motion to have a virtual convention passed.

A motion was made to transfer responsibilities and assets of intergroup’s correction’s committee to area 50 correction’s committee. There was no second and the motion died on the spot because legally, we cannot take such action at this time. We would need to first amend the by-laws and give groups time to discuss such a major change. Tom C. made a motion to allow central committee to spend their money to provide literature to area 50 correction’s committee. This motion passed.

Dave G. made a motion that Central Committee begin meeting in-person, including pre-meeting with standing committees at 5:30, starting in June. The motion passed, provided that the church is able to honor our request. Terry will let the body know what the church says via the newsletter, as well as the website. Terry will also let us know whether or not we are able to provide refreshments during the meeting. Until we know more, we will not be providing refreshments

Announcements:

No new announcements

Next Central Committee meeting will be June 6th at St. Andrews Parish Hall..

Tradition Six: An AA group ought never endorse, finance, or lend the AA name to any related facility or outside enterprise, lest problems of money, property, and prestige divert us from our primary purpose.

- Should my fellow group members and I go out and raise money to endow several AA beds in our local hospital?
- Is it good for a group to lease a small building?
- Are all the officers and members of our local club for AAs familiar with "Guidelines on Clubs" (which is available free from GSO)?
- Should the secretary of our group serve on the mayor's advisory committee on alcoholism?
- Some alcoholics will stay around AA only if we have a TV and card room. If this is what is required to carry the message to them, should we have these facilities?

Concept VI: The Conference recognizes that the chief initiative and active responsibility in most world service matters should be exercised by the trustee members of the Conference acting as the General Service Board.

- Are we familiar with how our General Service Board (G.S.B.) Class A and Class B trustees serve A.A.? Are we familiar with how our other trusted servants serve A.A.?
- Are we clear about the terms, "chief initiative" and "active responsibility"? Can we see a direct link to our home group?

Bill W. wrote of Intergroup Offices, "Though not costly, these agencies are absolutely essential to our continued expansion—to our survival as a Fellowship. Their costs are a collective obligation that rests squarely upon all of us. Our support of services actually amounts to a recognition on our part that A.A. must everywhere function in full strength—and that, under our Tradition of self-support, we are all going to foot the bill"
