We Take for Granted our Continued Unity as a Movement – But Should We?

Tradition Ten – An Essay by Bill W.; September 1948

To most of us, Alcoholics Anonymous has become as solid as the Rock of Gibraltar. We like to believe that it will soon be as well-known and just as enduring as that historic landmark. We enjoy this pleasant conviction because nothing has yet occurred to disturb it; we reason that we must hang together or die. Hence we take for granted our continued unity as a movement.

But should we? Though God has bestowed upon us great favors, and though we are bound by stronger ties of love and necessity than most societies, it is prudent to suppose that automatically these great gifts and attributes shall be ours forever? If we are worthy, we shall probably continue to enjoy them. So the real question is, how shall we always be worth of our present blessings?

Seen from this point of view, our AA Traditions are those attitudes and practices by which we may deserve, as a movement, a long life and a useful one. To this end, none could be more vital than our Tenth Tradition, for it deals with the subject of controversy – serious controversy.

On the other side of the world, millions have died even recently in religious dissension. Other millions have died in political controversy. The end is not yet. Nearly everybody in the world has turned reformer. Each group, society, and nation is saying to the other, “You must do as we say, or else.” Political controversy and reform by compulsion have reached an all-time high. And eternal, seemingly, are the flames of religious dissension.

Being like other men and women, how can we expect to remain forever immune from these perils? Probably we shall not. At length, we must meet them all. We cannot flee from them, nor ought we try. If these challenges do come, we shall, I am sure, go out to meet them gladly and unafraid. That will be the acid test of our worth.

Our best defense? This surely lies in the formation of a Tradition respecting serious controversy so powerful that neither the weakness of persons nor the strain and strife of our troubled times can harm Alcoholics Anonymous. We know that AA must continue to live, or else many of us and many of our fellow alcoholics throughout the world will surely resume the hopeless journey to oblivion. That must never be.

As though by some deep and compelling instinct, we have thus far avoided serious controversies. Save minor and healthy growing pains, we are at peace among ourselves. And because we have thus far adhered to our sole aim, the whole world regards us favorably.

May God grant us the wisdom and fortitude ever to sustain an unbreakable unity.

DOES YOUR GROUP USE THE CONCEPTS?

AA's Twelve Concepts for World Service are so practical. In none of our literature is there theory or dogma--only firsthand experience. Two good examples of such practicality can be found in Concepts III and IV. They contain two of the principles that Bill felt ought to be given the widest latitude in practice, the "Right of Decision" and the "Right of Participation." Concept III reads: "To insure effective leadership, we should endow each element of AA--the Conference, the General Service Board and its service corporations, staffs, committees, and executives--with a traditional 'Right of Decision.'" The "Right of Decision" has proved to be a most practical way for groups to empower delegates to the General Service Conference to act in accordance with their conscience.

But the principles stated in the Concepts, like all our AA principles, are just as applicable in the home group. Our secretary, for example, is empowered through Concept III with the "Right of Decision." We trust in his thoughtful preparation to make announcements appropriate to our meetings--that is, announcements that are AA-related. We trust him not to announce, for instance, that Tom H. will be having a garage sale next weekend and hopes to see everyone there for great bargains-- come early! We trust our program chair whose principal job is to book meetings. We don't tell her what groups or individuals to book but trust her to decide, based, for instance, on how recently a group has sent speakers to us and whether the group is within reasonable commute. Our hospitality team makes regular use of the spirit of the "Right of Decision." They determine what kind of refreshments the group will enjoy and do the buying.

I remember an incident some years ago at my then home group where the "Right of Decision" was a bit manhandled. The chair opened the meeting one night by announcing that the scheduled speaker had not shown up and instead of the usual discussion she had decided, on her own, to put together a three-speaker meeting. Afterward, several people let her know that they had been expecting their regular discussion meeting and were upset. She defended her decision by reminding them that, as chair, it was up to her to make decisions for the good of the group. She felt that the group needed "perking up." So she changed the meeting format.

Concept III states that "we ought to trust our responsible leaders to decide, within the understood framework of their duties, how they will interpret and apply their own authority and responsibility to each particular problem or situation as it arises." True enough, our chair had the final authority within the framework of her duties but by changing the meeting format she had overstepped her authority. Since a group, in its autonomy, decides on the format of its meetings through a legitimate voting process, she had unwittingly challenged the group's autonomy. I am happy to say that this trusted servant rethought the incident and became a wiser and consequently more valued member of the group.

As for Concept IV, the short form reads: "At all responsible levels, we ought to maintain a traditional 'Right of Participation,' allowing a voting representation in reasonable proportion to the responsibility that each must discharge."

I recently witnessed a splendid example of the "Right of Participation" in action at a group in my area of which I was not a member. Opening a group inventory meeting, the chair requested that only members of the group participate; non-members could identify themselves but ought to refrain from commentary. If the chair had asked nonmembers to leave, I would have taken a grand-daddy of a resentment out into the night air. Instead, he invoked a very important part of the "Right of Participation" by recognizing my need to belong. I have also attended business meetings where the presiding officer announced that nonmembers were welcome to stay but must refrain from voting. Thus, thanks to the "Right of Participation," those of us who were not members were made to feel that we belonged, if not to that group, certainly to AA as a whole.

Participation, like the human body, comes in different shapes and sizes. I once heard a woman share at a meeting that she was having a hard time staying sober and couldn't understand why. She said she had a home group and was "very active." What came to light was that most of her activity consisted of participation in outside endeavors, such as the PTA, Red Cross, a home for the elderly, and her neighborhood hospital. As for her AA membership, she attended meetings but did no more. What she didn't understand or had forgotten is that, while all those community activities are admirable, what we are talking about is participation in AA activities. Of course, none of us is forced to do anything in AA. As Concept IV says, my participation in AA activities is a right. I may participate as a member of my group's steering committee or an ad hoc committee, or as an elected officer, or just as a member of the group. Or I may choose not to actively participate at all. But from the moment I declare myself a member of Alcoholics Anonymous, the right to participate in AA activities becomes and remains inalienably mine until the moment I remove myself from the Fellowship of Alcoholics Anonymous. Thanks be to Dr. Bob and Bill for their vision.

Are you aware of the Concepts at work in your home group? Why not hold a meeting to talk about them and their value to your group? If you do, it might be a good idea to announce it in advance. You might ask your GSR to lead it, or your area delegate. You might consider making available a supply of the Conference-approved pamphlet The Twelve Concepts Illustrated, as I have done for workshops. It is informative and what's more, people get a genuine kick out of the drawings. I love pictures, don't you?

"WE PAY OUR OWN WAY"

One of the most common misconceptions of these gatherings is that they are AA meetings so there should be "no dues or fees," as per our 7th tradition. However, these are not AA meetings, but rather fundraisers for a regular AA meeting. No baskets are passed.

This is a very busy time of each year in that we are preparing for our Delegate Denise M. attending the 72nd General Service Conference on April 24-30.

A 1081 page summary covering 89 topics and issues which will be discussed during the weeklong meeting. Denise will be called on to specifically express Area 50's Group Conscience on certain items. These items are highlighted in the Summary which was distributed to Home Group Representatives (GSRs).

Hope Groups are urged to discuss the topics and express their group conscious to Denise.

The Background Summary is also available on the Area website

Big Book, Pause when agitated ..

As we go through the day we pause, when agitated or doubtful, and ask for the right thought or action. We constantly remind ourselves we are no longer running the show, humbly saying to ourselves many times each day "Thy will be done." We are then in much less danger of excitement, fear, anger, worry, self-pity, or foolish decisions. We become much more efficient. We do not tire so easily, for we are not burning up energy foolishly as we did when we were trying to arrange life to suite ourselves.

It works- it really does.

Tradition Four: Each group should be autonomous except in matters affecting other groups or AA as a whole.

- Do I insist that there are only a few right ways of doing things in AA?
- Does my group always consider the welfare of the rest of AA? Of nearby groups? Of loners in Alaska? Of internationalists miles from port? Of a group in Rome or El Salvador?
- Do I put down other members' behavior when it is different from mine, or do I learn from it?
- Do I always bear in mind that, to those outsiders who know I am in AA, I may to some extent represent our entire beloved Fellowship?
- Am I willing to help a newcomer go to any lengths – his lengths, not mine – to stay sober?
- Do I share my knowledge of AA tools with other members who may not have heard of them?

Intergroup wants to express our appreciation for those groups and individuals who have made generous financial contributions, and give a special thank you to all the members who have volunteered their time this year to help the sick and suffering alcoholic.

Concept IV: At all responsible levels, we ought to maintain a traditional "Right of Participation," allowing a voting representation in reasonable proportion to the responsibility that each must discharge.

- Do we understand the spiritual principles underlying the "Right of Participation"?
- What does "in reasonable proportion" mean? Do we understand when it is appropriate for A.A. paid staff to have a vote at the General Service Conference or in our local service structure?
- Do we expect that, because we are A.A. members, we should be allowed to vote at any group, even if we are not active members of that group?

SOBRIETY isn't just about being sober because someone said you need help... It's about making a decision to have a deeper more profound life. It's about not running away from fear, but looking it straight in the eye...knowing you will get through it. It's about knowing you don't have to walk this road alone and trusting a power and love greater than you. It's about service and helping people instead of hurting them...including yourself. You are a warrior because you chose to feel every fiber of your being and that takes courage.

That is where FREEDOM is!
